The Australian Government Department of Infrastructure and Transport is shaping the future direction of Australia’s national strategic projects. We are committed to attracting, retaining and developing the best people to meet our business outcomes. We are serious about employing talented, highly motivated individuals who have the potential to make a real difference and become our leaders of tomorrow.

We contribute to the wellbeing of all Australians by assisting the Government to promote, evaluate, plan and invest in infrastructure; fostering an efficient, sustainable, competitive, safe and secure transport system.

Join our Graduate Development Program
Our Graduate Development Program is delivered over 10 months and will equip you with the skills, experience and knowledge you need for a career in the Department and the Australian Public Service. The key aspects of the program include:

- a formal induction to the Department;
- work placements in three different areas of the Department;
- a structured training program which includes a Diploma of Government, the Personal Efficiency Program and on the job training;
- an interstate industry tour; and
- a specialised mentoring scheme providing guidance for work and career as well as social and sporting opportunities.

Your learning and development will also be supported with a ‘buddy’. Upon successful completion of the program, you will be offered a permanent position in the Department at the APS 4 level.

What sort of work will you be doing?
We have opportunities for graduates from all disciplines to work in the areas of:

- Economic and community infrastructure delivery;
- Project management;
- Climate change;
- Aviation policy;
- Transport security;
- Engineering projects;
- Statistics and economic research; and
- Corporate service delivery in accounting, information technology, human resource management or communication.
